Demand That Orville Wright's Plane Be Brought Back to Institution

Two Senators, Members of Smithsonian Board, Launch
New Movement

INVENTOR HONORED
Just 25 Years Ago Today
That Orville Flew First Plane

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 —
"Bring Orville Wright's airplane back to America."

With this declaration, two senatorial members of the board of regents of Smithsonian institution moved today, on the twenty-fifth anniversary of Orville Wright's history-making flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C., to end the long controversy over the beginning of man-controlled aviation.
Joining hands in the move, senators Reed Smoot, Republican of Utah, and Claude Swanson,
Democrat of Virginia, announced
they would help to place Wright's machine in Smithsonian institution, even though the famous inventor recently shipped it to England.

"Of course the Wright airplane should be in Smithsonian Institution," said Smoot. "It is the first airplane that ever flew with a man in it or under the control of man. I certainly favor returning it from England to be placed in the institution. I hope Mr. Wright will bring it back."

"I believe the Wright plane ought to be brought back from England and placed in the Smithsonian Institution," Swanson added. "We should do complete justice to Orville Wright and his invention and there should be no more quibbling about it."

COMMITTEE FAILS TO REPORT TREATY

Eight Arbitration Pacts Are Reported Favorably to Senate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 — Although reporting eight separate arbitration treaties favorably, the senatorial foreign relations committee today withheld approval of the Kellogg multilateral anti-war treaty for second time.

Proponents of the treaty declared
there was no evidence of filibuster against the pact in the committee's deliberations and predicted a final action at another session tomorrow.
The session today was devoted to a discussion of the necessity for adopting a "resolution of explanation," as proposed by the "irreconcilable" group
in conjunction with the treaty.

THIS old island comes to life in a modern way, thanks to Detroit and Howard Coffin. He made his millions in Hudson and Essex automobiles. Instead of taking his money to Europe, as some do, he decided to go on building. He joined Carl Fisher in building up Montauk point, the far end of Long Island, with golf links, polo fields, airplane landing fields and a cine big hotel.

He has just finished building another fine hotel and more golf links, airplane fields, polo fields, etc., on this island.

Georgia is much obliged to him for this proof that he appreciates as fine a coast resort as there is in the world.

The good Lord gives to human beings the beautiful earth.
It takes individuals with energy to make it available for the big crowd, as Flager developed Florida, Carl Fisher developed Miami, the Prince of Monaco developed Monte Carlo, and as Mr. Coffin is developing this part of the wonderful coast of Georgia.

Orville Wright (left), first human to fly on mechanical wings, received a world ovation today, twenty-fifth anniversary of his epochal flight on the sand dunes of North Carolina. Right, actual photo of the first flight.

It was just 25 years ago that Orville Wright and his brother took their plane to the sand dunes of North Carolina for its initial test. Orville flew the plane and it remained aloft for 12 seconds,
but that brief flight made history,
because it was the first time in history that a human being had flown in heavier-than-air machine or in a power-driven machine.

The controversy over placing Wright's plane in Smithsonian Institution developed when the original Langley plane was given a place of honor in the institution over Wright's protest. Wright then sent his own original plane to England.

FLU CAUSES DEATH OF H. V. PRICE, 64

Galion Man Succumbs Following Brief Illness; Widow and Daughter Survive

(Special to The Star)
GALION, Dec. 17—Herschell V.
Price, 64, agent for the Massachusetts
Bonding & Insurance Co., died at 2:35 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his home, 226 Orange st. Death was caused from a heart attack, superinduced by flu. He had been ill 10 days and bedfast only since Thursday.

Funeral services have not been definitely arranged but will probably be held Wednesday afternoon at the home.

Mr. Price was born in Crawford county, Aug. 10, 1864, the son of Thomas and Margaret Coulter Price.
His marriage to Mary Fitts was solemnized in 1888, who survives with one daughter, Mrs. Loren Beck, this city; two sisters, Mrs. Conrad Clouse and Mrs. Charles Hollinger, of near Edison, and one brother, Samuel Price, of California.

Mr. Price had been a resident of Galion for the past 27 years and formerly was associated with the Cleveland Southwestern Railway Co. For a number of years he has been associated with the bonding company with headquarters in the First National Bank Building here. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and the Men's Bible class. Fraternally he was affiliated with the Masonic lodge, having completed the thirty-second de-

MAN DIES FROM STROKE AFTER BEATING UP WIFE

CLEVELAND, Dec. 17—William P. Higgins, 56, who suffered a stroke of apoplexy after beating his wife into insensibility with a heavy hammer, is dead today, having succumbed to his malady in a hospital.

His wife, Edith, 40, is in the same hospital and is expected to recover.
A stepson, Walter Ferguson, 20, escaped from the older man's attack
when he jumped from a second story window. No motive could be ascribed and Higgins is believed to have suddenly become deranged.

crushed to death in the wreckage of his new automobile near Oakland cemetery, at the western edge of the city this morning. He had apparently been to sleep with his car running in his home from a garage at Oak and ran off the road, crashing into a tree.

MOVE STARTED FOR UNION OF ORGANIZATIONS

19 Marion Civic Agencies Invited to Meeting Called for Wednesday

AT "Y" BUILDING
Plan To Weld Groups in Common Cause Outlined by Secretary Hale

A plan to weld Marion's social, civic, religious and philanthropic agencies into a single organization was outlined today by Earl N. Hale, general secretary of the Marion Y.
M. C. A., when he issued invitations for noon luncheon Wednesday.

Nineteen organizations were invited to send representatives to the meeting, which will be held in the Y. M. C. A. dining room.

Declaring that all of these groups are interested in making Marion a fine city as is possible, Hale cited a number of organizations and agencies that are especially related to the youth life of Marion.

"With all these various groups working together we can more effectively relate our work to the whole city. We should also have a better understanding and appreciation of each other's work."

Hale proposes an organization made up of the executive officers and leaders of these various social and welfare agencies. He has asked that representatives of the organizations planning to attend the luncheon notify him by Tuesday noon.

Organizations Represented
These organizations received invitations today: Boy Scouts, city schools, county schools, county health department, city health department, juvenile court, city library, Red Cross,
Salvation Army, St. Mary's schools,
King's Daughters, Y. M. C. A., Marion County Ministerial association, Chamber of Commerce, City hospital, Federation of Women's clubs,
County Humane society, The Marion
Star and the Marion County Children's Home.

SEEKS EXPLANATION OF TAX REDUCTION

Prosecutor Plans To Learn
Reasons for Action on C.
D. & M. Valuation

Prosecuting Attorney Frank Wedemann stated today that he plans to go to Columbus this week in an effort to learn from members of the state tax commission their reasons for lowering the valuation of the Marion county property of the Columbus, Delaware & Marion Electric Co.

The tax commission recently lowered the valuation of the electric company's property here, by more than $124,000. This was done after two courts held that a previous valuation made by the commission was satisfactory.

County Auditor Earl E. Thomas,
to whom the commission recently certified the 1929 valuation of the electric company's property today, explained the decrease as it had been explained to him by members of the commission.

According to the explanation given Thomas, the electric company failed in 1927 to make certain deductions to which it was entitled in making its tax return. The result was that the company's valuation, and consequently its tax, was higher than it should have been. The $124,000 decrease in valuation this year was made by the commission to even up the excess valuation of a year ago,
according to the explanation of the commission.

SAYS DEMAND MADE FOR HIGHER TARIFF

Hawley Plans To Submit New Bill at First Hoover
Congress

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17—A nation-wide demand for upward revision of the Fordney-McCumber tariff act has been revealed in the wake of the decision of Republican congressional leaders to write a new tariff bill in the first Hoover Congress.

The commission, which will write the new bill for presentation to congress has virtually promised to place to start hearing on the Y. M. C. A. building.

The proposed bill for revision of new tariff legislation passed by the Senate
last week would mean a 10 per cent increase in the tariff on many imported goods, including automobiles,
which would mean a 10 per cent increase in the price of new cars.

On the other hand, the bill would mean a 10 per cent decrease in the tariff on many other goods, including sugar, which would mean a 10 per cent decrease in the price of sugar.

Veteran in Masonry

James A. Knapp To Be Installed Dec. 27 for Forty-Third Consecutive Year as Secretary of Marion Lodge No. 70

AN active member of the Masonic order for over a half-century, and secretary of Marion Lodge No. 70 for 43 consecutive years.

That is the remarkable record of James A. Knapp which ranks him as one of the outstanding Masons in Ohio. His record of membership and official service is said to have few equals in lodges
throughout the country.

Another milestone will be added to Mr. Knapp's unbroken chain of years as secretary of Marion Lodge No. 70 on Dec. 27, when he will be installed for his forty-third term. Election was held Nov. 22. He is also secretary of all other local Masonic lodges and is kept busy every day with his duties at his office in the Masonic Temple. He has been secretary of Marion Chapter No.
62, Royal Arch Masons, 33 years.

Enrolled in 1875
Mr. Knapp was made a Master
Mason in Marion Lodge No. 70 in 1875, when the lodge was 35 years old. At the time he became a member, No. 70 had a membership of 77. Its present enrollment is 1,040.

Services in various other
Masonic offices also mark Mr.
Knapp's record as a member of the order. In 1878 he served as presiding officer of the chapter, in 1880 as presiding officer of the council and in 1910 as head of Marion, Commandery No. 38,
Knights Templar.

He was elected junior deacon
of Marion Lodge No. 70 in 1870
and since that time has served in some official capacity. He was master of No. 70 from 1882 to 1885, taking the office of secretary at the end of that period.

His Highest Degrees
Mr. Knapp received his thirty-second degree of Masonry in February, 1900 and was awarded the highest Masonic honor, the thirty-third degree, in September, 1925.

Four sons and one grandson have been initiated into Marion Lodge No. 70 since Mr. Knapp joined.

Among his numerous honors in the Masonic order are the following: Charter member of Achbar Grotto, Columbus; charter member of Knicker Grotto; associate guardian of Marion Bethel No. 2, John Daughters; advisory council, Marion De Molay; director and secretary of Masonic Temple
Co. and a member of the Masonic Veterans of Ohio since 1900.
Membership in the veteran's association requires 21 years as a master Mason.

Pneumonia Claims Life of Isaac Marx, Pioneer Merchant, at Home Here

Former Head of Local Clothing Firm Succumbs at Age of 88;
Burial Rites in Cleveland To Follow
Services Here Tonight

Isaac Marx, 88, retired clothing merchant, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at his home, 442 South State st. Death came at 1:40 o'clock after a brief illness of pneumonia. He had been suffering from influenza of age for about a year.

2 o'clock tonight at the home, the body will be taken to Cleveland. Services there will be held at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the chapel in Mayfield cemetery, where burial will be made. Rabbi A. H.
Silver of the Temple will officiate.

Born in Germany
Mr. Marx, a native of Haden, Germany, had resided in Marion since 1900. For 10 years he was identified with the I. Marx & Sons clothing store, South Main st. He retired in 1910. He was a member of the congregation of Israel, here, a member of the Marion chapter of Royal Arenum and of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, Cleveland.

Born in Haden, Germany, John H.
Marx, the son of Haden and Clara
Marx, who were also natives of Haden,
Mr. Marx came to this country as a young man. He first settled at Millersburg, O., where he engaged in the clothing business. Dec. 21, 1870, at Cleveland, he was united in marriage to Miss Anna Klinefelter, who preceded him in death July 25, 1925.
They moved from Millersburg to Cleveland in 1890 when Mr. Marx became associated in business there.
They removed to Marion in 1900.

130 SOLDIERS ARE KILLED IN S. A. CLASHES

Many More Injured as Bolivia

LASTS EIGHT HOURS
Nature of Territory Claimed
by Both Countries Blocks
Intensive Fighting

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 17—Unofficial press dispatches received here
today indicated that more than 130
Bolivian and Paraguayan soldiers already have been killed in clashes in Gran Chaco, the territory claimed by both republics. Many were wounded.
The first fighting took place at Fort Vanguardia.

According to advices from Asuncion, Bolivian troops attacked
the Paraguayan garrison in Fort Boqueron, Rivarola and General
Genoa where the fighting lasted more than eight hours. From 20 to 30 men were reported killed in the clash at Fort Vanguardia while the losses in the later fighting were heavier. A dispatch from J. P. estimated that about 100 Paraguayan soldiers were killed in Boqueron, Rivarola and General Genoa. The Bolivian casualties were said to be slight.

Contains 100,000 Miles
Gran Chaco, the territory claimed by the two republics, contains more than 100,000 square miles, containing large areas of swampland and jungle.
It stretches eastward from the foothills of the Andes mountains between the Pilcomayo and Paraguay rivers
and a great deal of it is unexplored.
Except for roving bands of Indians
it is uninhabited.

The nature of this terrain makes it improbable that Bolivia and Paraguay could carry on a war on a big scale, owing to the absence of roads and the impossibility of sending large bodies of troops through the jungle.

Accuses Bolivia of Attacking Paraguay

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17—War
without a declaration. Thus Paraguayan charges: D'Affaires Justiamkes today characterized the clashes between Bolivian and Paraguayan troops in the light of official advises from Asuncion, Paraguay,
to the legation here.

Bolivia came early in the state department to hand Secretary Kellogg a note he received from the Paraguayan capital late last night.
The note follows:
"Bolivia has opened war activities
against Paraguay, attacking the latter's military positions on its frontiers near the Pilcomayo river and dropping bombs from various airplanes on Bahia Negra, a port situated on the bank of the Paraguay river close to the frontier of Brazil."

A small Paraguayan fort, surrounded by about 30 men was captured. In view of this new aggression, deliberate and unjustified, the government of Paraguay has had to take the most urgent measures
for the defense of its territory.
Consequently the war has been declared.

Four Local Men Glad to Be Able to Say Reports of Their Deaths Are Overdrawn

WHEN Mark Twain made the memorable announcement that "Reports of his death were grossly exaggerated," he coined an expression which has come to be of considerable convenience to Marion residents.

Within the last few weeks, four well-known local men have been prematurely placed in the undertakers' hands by erroneous reports which gained general circulation throughout the community with all the amazing speed which invariably characterizes groundless gossip.

The latest on the list is Dr. A. A. Starnes, who was listed among the departed in rumors which passed from lip to lip here Sunday and this morning. The doctor had a touch of the flu last week but that was all; investigation showed. Today he was busy visiting his patients.

Apprentice Bill Good, John J. Francis, sheriff-elect, was the first to be assigned to authority demise by the local rumor mill. He was supposed to have been the victim of a sudden heart attack several weeks ago but when inquiry was made at his home he answered the phone and said that he hoped to live long enough to finish a fine fish dinner on which he had just started.

Next came B. J. Shelton, county treasurer-elect, listed as the victim of a sudden demise about two weeks ago. Shelton had been injured in a fall at his home but recovered nicely and is again at his office in the courthouse.

Last week a widespread rumor had C. H. Boyd, president of the H. Arkerman Co., dead in Colorado, where he went for the benefit of his health some time ago. Mr. Boyd was not here to deny the rumor personally but his business associates acted as his proxy by spiking the rumor.

During a business session the following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Joseph Schira; vice, president, Mrs. W. G. Huffman; secretary, Mrs. Harry Bristol; treasurer, Mrs. Clara Myers. Mrs. E. C. Walker was re-elected teacher. Mrs. N. O. Newman, Mrs. Helen Cruikshank and Mrs. H. H. Smith are new members of the class. Mrs. J. R. Shellenbarger was a guest. Christmas wishes were exchanged and the hostesses served refreshments.

COMPANIES TO PAY IN MORROW COUNTY

List Western Union and Ohio Telephone and Telegraph Companies' Valuations

MT. GILEAD, Dec. 17.—After two years in which neither the Western Union Telegraph Co. nor the Ohio Telephone and Telegraph Co. have paid taxes, valuations for 1926, 1927, 1928, have been filed with County Auditor Roy Miller.

The Ohio Telephone and Telegraph Co. will pay taxes on a valuation of $44,220 for 1926; $43,500 for 1927; $45,020 for 1928.

The Western Union Telegraph Co. will pay taxes on the following valuations: for 1926, $19,190; for 1927, $14,700; for 1928, $20,580. These valuations were filed with Auditor Miller Saturday and will be the basis for the collection of tax on the Morrow county property of these companies.

Combined Choirs Sing At Kenton Yuletide Program

KENTON, Dec. 17.—The outstanding musical event of the season was the presentation of the "Mensah" Sunday evening in the First Methodist Episcopal church under the direction of Owen Roberts, director.

The music was given by the First M. E. church choir assisted by choirs from St. John's Evangelical and the First Reformed churches.

Miss Margaret Struhm presided at the organ, and Mrs. A. F. Machetanz at the piano during the songs of the production. The orchestra comprised of Albert Fink and Augustine Dick, first violins; Delbert B. Metzger, Harold Cloud, second violin; Theodore Dick, celloist; Roy Kempell, clarinet, and L. E. Willes, trumpet.

The personnel of the chorus included Mrs. Boyd Bair, Mrs. E. F. Gelhaus, Mrs. W. H. Lintz, Mrs. Anna Roberts Davies, Mrs. Lawrence Dettler, Mrs. J. C. Nourse, Mrs. C. A. Arzenbright, Mrs. P. E. Decatur, Mrs. H. J. Bells, Mrs. William Crooks, Mrs. Rex Harris, Mrs. Gertrude Bush, the Misses Wilma Jenkins, Lorena Lopp, Catherine Sloan, Dorothy Voll, Grace Pugh, Ruth Schoelder and Reba Kraft.

Also were Mr. Edward Fink, Mrs. William Krimblebine, Mrs. Earl Sprang, Mrs. T. C. Mahon, the Misses Mary Jane Wagner, Anna Venatia, Linda Bixler, Sarah Herring, Orph Hoppe, Soloma Hanna, Rachel Miller, Francis Woodard, Helen Hamon and Geraldine Mitchell.

Those who sang tenor were Ray Feenitz, M. F. Cheney, Lee Baker, C. F. Southard, W. R. Pfeiffer, Frank Strahm and Arthur Wolf.

The men listed below sang bass: Dr. W. F. Wurth, Earl Sprang, Harry Kayser, T. C. Mahon, H. J. Sells, Paul Caslor, Guy Laubis, Le Moyne Croner, Elliott Dyer and Robert Meley.

WO MEN KILLED

Under Car Submerged in Stream near Mineral City

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 17—Automobile accident today had the lives of two men, Francis J. 23, and Joan Shroyer, 21, George Shroyer, 19, escaped the car carrying the three men into Hut Run, near Mineral north of here yesterday after a through a bridge guard rail. Shroyer "strangled" himself and summoned aid. Resuscitation was attempted on the two men for several hours after their recovery from the creek. It was futile. They had been pinned beneath the submerged automobile. Murray's brother, Walter, was killed in an airplane crash just three miles from the scene of yesterday's tragedy on Oct. 14, 1924.

Steamer Has Picked in Tow; Linn Broken in Gale

COROVIA, ALASKA, Dec. 17—Parting mountainous seas, the steamer Alameda, with the packet Starr in tow, was fighting her way to Seeward, according to radio address received here today. The Starr was disabled when she ran on a reef off Dark Island last week.

Before the Starr was taken in tow for the second time, the vessel narrowly escaped drifting on to the rocks of Insurrection Bay. Linn from the Alameda to the Starr were broken during a gale and Captain Westerlund, of the Alameda, managed to get another line to the Starr just in time to avert disaster. Twenty-three persons are aboard the Starr.

UPPER SANDUSKY GIRL IN CHARGE OF OUTING

COLUMBUS, Dec. 17—Miss Annette Lowry, of Upper Sandusky, a senior at Ohio State university, was in charge of a camping party of co-ed students held at Indianola camp, near Columbus, last week-end. Miss Lowry was appointed to have charge of the expedition by the Women's Athletic association. She is studying in the College of Education.

45-Room Flat To Live In Solitary Grandeur

Impressive entrance to apartment house at No. 1040 Fifth av., New York City, in which rich Mr. Markle's amazing retreat is located. Inset, the 70-year-old anthracite king.

$1,000,000 "Co-Op" Will House Rich Widower's Art Collection

NEW YORK—You can write down Mr. John Markle as one who craves solitude in the same degree that Robinson Crusoe didn't.

He is the anthracite king of America. Mr. Markle, a benign, elderly man in horn-rimmed glasses, he started out a poor boy in the "breakers" and wound up a multimillionaire. But nothing he ever did got him quite so much attention as this simple act of "building an apartment" recently at Fifth Avenue and Eighty-seventh street. Far—

When he took over the occupancy of his new abode, the rich and fastidious widower became the owner of the world's largest single apartment—an expansive retreat of forty-five rooms, winding corridors and, out of the best views in New York. The cost was put at more than a million dollars.

Wants Only To Be Alone

With neither child nor child to enjoy the luxury with him, this modern antithesis of Robinson Crusoe apparently wishes only to be alone in the Autumn of his life; alone, that is, except for the art treasures, which formerly were kept in the old Markle apartment which boasted a "patry" thirty rooms and hardly any view at all. To serve him, and keep the place in order will require something like an even dozen maids, pantrymen, butlers, etc. The rooms for whom are equally divided in the two wings of the apartment. Indeed, "in rambling is the huge one-man home that it is conceivable that these domesticities may go days without encroaching on at least one or more of these fellows.

Among other things the largest apartment house boasts:

Private Telephone Exchange

A linen and white, marble staircases which set Mr. Markle back $75,000; an art gallery, two libraries, antique paneling of all master rooms; a private exchange with twenty-six extension phones; and furniture of French and English design, especially imported for the anthracite king.

These facts are available only through the dealers who had to do with furnishing the biggest apartment for Mr. Markle. Later, publicity, worse than a walking delegate, to the WHY behind the 70-year-old widower's decision to go in for solitary grandeur in a big way probably never will be known. Which is, perhaps, as it should be.

PRESENTS PROGRAM

Mt. Victory M. E. Missionary Society Members Are Guests

MT. VICTORY, Dec. 17—The Woman's Home Missionary society met in the M. E. church parlors Thursday afternoon. Mrs. James Wagner and Mrs. W. M. George were elected first and second assistants to the evangelism secretary, Mrs. William McKim. Mrs. Edwin Clapsdale gave a reading, "A Wonderful Christmas Missionary Meeting," and the study book chapter, "Learning To Live Together," was recited by Mrs. Frank McCall. Musical numbers were contributed by Donald George who sang "Father's Cradle Hymn," and Miss Mildred Smith sang "Sonny Boy." Miss Lucile Myers entertained with a clarinet solo, accompanied by Miss Geneva Clapsdale at the piano. The enigma were conducted by Mrs. Frank McCall. The committee, composed of Mrs. Carey Overholser, Mrs. Eva Oberdier, Mrs. Chas. Beiler, Mrs. Earnest Fowler and Mrs. M. E. Savidge, served lunch.

MARION ELKS TO CONDUCT FUNERAL

Harry M. Leonzo, Former Actor, Dies at Home in Columbus

Officers of Marion Lodge of Elks will have charge of funeral services at Delaware, Tuesday afternoon, for Harry McMillin Leonzo, former actor who died Saturday at his home, 1227 1/2 East State st., Columbus.

Leonzo was a member of the local lodge, having been initiated under the old rule which made members of the theatrical profession eligible for enrollment in the Elks in any city where they happened to be showing. Leonzo joined the local lodge while filling a theatrical engagement here a number of years ago. He was 53 years old. The local lodge records give Pittsburgh as his place of birth. Funeral rites are to be held at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon followed by interment in the mausoleum at Delaware.

Leonzo is survived by his widow, Mrs. Emma Leonzo, a son, daughter and three grandchildren.

SELFDRIDGE IS AMBITIOUS TO OWN NEWSPAPER

London—The ambition of Gordon Selfridge, who came from Wisconsin to become London's greatest merchant, is to own a newspaper.

He divulged his aim at a luncheon of the London Master Printers' Association held here recently.

"At the age of 12, I joined with a friend of mine in the editing of a monthly paper in America, which we called 'The Will of the Will.' Selfridge declared. 'He was the editor and I was business manager. I got the advertisements, and we made such a good thing of it that at the end of the year my friend and I got enough money to visit Niagara Falls. 'If any of you has a good newspaper you want to sell at a very low price I shall be pleased to take it over and talk the matter over with you.'"

Simplicity of design means better *P*ERFORMANCE

The new Ford Coupe is distinguished by the trim sturdiness of its lines and beautiful colors. An unusually good choice for the woman driver because it is so reliable, safe and easy to control. The Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield is an important safety feature.

Everywhere you go, you note the smooth, speed, power and acceleration of the new Ford—its alert, capable performance in traffic, on hills and on the open road. It has set a new standard for a low-priced car.

An example of Ford simplicity of design

Take the engine lubrication system. It is a combination of pump, splash and gravity feed and is unusually reliable and effective. There is but one movable part—the pump.

From valve chamber down, the entire flow of oil is as simple in principle as water running downhill. Ford design and Ford manufacturing methods have made it trouble-free. The only thing for you to do is to see that the oil level never falls below low (L).

Only one high-tension cable in ignition system

This same trouble-saving simplicity of design is shown also in the Ford ignition system, which reflects much that is new in mechanical design.

A particularly unique feature is the elimination of high-tension cables from the distributor to the spark-plugs, these connections being made by means of thin bronze springs. There is but one high-tension cable and this connects the coil on the dash with the distributor.

The distributor head itself is water-proof and has been specially designed to prevent short circuits from rain, snow, etc.

Another exclusive Ford development is shown in the construction of the housing of the steering gear mechanism. This is made of three steel forgings, electrically welded together.

The housing is then electrically welded to the steering column, thus making a one-piece steel unit.

Many other vital parts of the new Ford are also electrically welded, permitting the use of steel forgings instead of stampings or castings and giving greater simplicity and strength than if several parts were riveted or bolted together.

More steel forgings, in fact, are used in the new Ford than in almost any other car, regardless of price.

All six brakes are silent and fully enclosed

Equally important to good performance is the design of the brakes on the new Ford. The six-brake system is unusually safe, reliable and effective because both the four-wheel service brakes and the separate emergency or parking brakes are of the mechanical, internal-expanding type, with all braking surfaces fully enclosed for protection against water, sand, dirt and grease.

For many years this has been recognized as the ideal combination. It is now brought to you on the new Ford because a similar way has been found to accommodate the use of full internal brakes in a car of this class.

A further improvement is the use of a special emergency brake. This is a separate unit, not connected to the main brake system. Through this the entire surface of the shoe is brought in contact with the drum the instant you press your foot on the brake pedal. This prevents screeching and howling and makes the Ford brakes unusually silent.

Such simplicity of design is not easy to achieve. Yet it is the first essential of good performance in a low-priced car.

It is made possible only through Ford's own research and development methods and the particular genius of Ford's engineering staff.

Such simplicity of design is a new development in the history of the automobile. It is a new standard for a low-priced car.

The value of the American toy output this year is estimated at $30,000,000. Who says there isn't any Santa Claus?

"Red" Norn, Brooklyn gangster, was executed in Sing Sing prison, last Friday. If their fellow-gangsters don't get them, the law will. Crime doesn't pay.

Bathhouses for dogs with hot towels and electric drying machines are reported to be flourishing in Paris. Can there longer be doubt that the world is making progress?

The government is planning to buy Harry F. Sinclair to recover something over $20,000,000 profits taken out of the Salt Creek field. The government must be seeking to transform the prosecution of Sinclair into a continuous performance.

The German Reichstag has passed an arbitration treaty with the United States. It can not possibly do any harm, but it looks a lot like locking the stable door after some miscreant has made off with the equine.

Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., may just as well prepare for criticism. His gift of 2,000,000 francs for a cafeteria in which Paris students may buy a pint of wine for five cents, a glass of beer for two cents and a good meal for twenty cents will hardly offend him to the exponents of dryness, who are bound to look upon the twenty-cent meal as a sop to respectability.

Little Willie's attendance at Sunday-school having been recorded yesterday, nothing but sickness or death can eatop him from partaking of the Sunday-school Christmas tree popcorn and the indigestible gundrops.

Seven huge cases of machine guns and ammunition were found on a steamer in Vienna harbor last week and confiscated by the Austrian government, a case very similar to that of a year ago when a carload of machine guns were seized. The gun-runners should try another route. They do not appear to have much luck shipping by the way of Austria.

The United States air mail service carried 421,174 pounds of mail during November. Although almost 45,000 pounds below the best month's record of the year, that of October, the November record showed an increase of 141,282 over that of November, 1927. A remarkable showing, considering the fact that the service but a few years ago was considered little more than an experiment.

Another Prosperity Straw

Addressing the annual convention of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents in New York City, one day last week, its chairman, Chandler Bullock, stated to the gathering that for the sixth successive year the people of the country had established in 1928, a new high record in the purchasing of life insurance. The total of new insurance for the year, he said, was approximately $18,500,000,000, an increase of $1,365,000,000 over the new business of 1927, the previous high year. At the present rate of increase, he predicted, the total insurance in force will reach $100,000,000,000 by the autumn of 1929, the eighty-seventh year of American life insurance, and he estimated the current total at $95,000,000,000, a net increase of $8,000,000,000 during the year after shrinkage.

In view of American consumption of automobiles, silk hose, cosmetics and like products, the 1928 insurance record was evidence of amazing resiliency of the nation's purchasing power, Mr. Bullock declared.

The 1928 total, he added, was more than nine times the amount of life insurance the nation purchased in 1901.

Statistics offered by another speaker showed that the capital funds of the life insurance companies of the United States had doubled during the last seven years, amounting to $16,000,000,000 and representing the contributions of 65,000,000 policyholders, and that the increase in such funds this year was $1,600,000,000. Other figures by various life insurance heads showed that the United States leads the world in life insurance, carrying over seventy per cent. of the total in force in all countries, and that the insurance payments of the present year would approximate $1,700,000,000.

Within the past ten days or two weeks we have called attention to the marked increase in our exports in 1928 and the record-breaking figures the year has produced in the matter of individual bank deposits and savings accounts. Here now we have the life insurance record of the United States pointing the same way—showing that no people in all the world's history have ever experienced the like of the general prosperity which the people of the United States are enjoying today.

Looking to Street Improvements.

It is somewhat difficult to comment on the action of the city council in enacting legislation looking to the completion of the proposed improvement of Center and Main streets without knowing what the council has in mind.

The original program was for the repaving of the streets, and the estimate of city officials that the work would probably cost $500,000 would go to indicate that such is the plan of council at this time, but the four resolutions passed do not specifically so provide. The program authorized provides for the widening of Center street fifteen and a half feet from Fifth street to Greenwood and the repaving or repainting of that street from Main street to Greenwood, legislation for the repaving of that street from Oak to Main having already been passed; the repaving or repainting of Main street from the Big Four railroad to Center street and from Center to Columbia, and for sanitary and storm water sewers along Center street from Oak to Greenwood.

There is no question but what the sections of the two streets indicated are in miserable condition and badly in need of reconstruction. They should have been repaved long ago. We do not know the feeling of the property-owners along the streets, but the general understanding has been that when the streets were repaved, the reconstruction would be along the line of the work on west Center street from Oak street to the Hocking Valley railroad. Such may be the plan of the city authorities at this time, but the wording of the resolutions passed last week as reported in our news columns makes the matter optional. The streets can either be repaved or repainted, and at least one member of council has been considering the covering of the streets with asphalt, the material in which the city has invested heavily during the last two years, and at times illegally.

It seems to us that the sections of the two streets to be improved are in such shape as to call for an improvement which will speak for permanency, that they should be repaved with the best and most durable material obtainable. Of course, it is understood that the improvement is not to be completed next year and that there can be no objection to the making of temporary repairs on such portions as are not at that time permanently improved, but when the work is done, it should be done right. We believe that this is the view of interested property-holders generally, and we know that it is the view of some.

Incidentally, when permanent improvements are made, it would work mightily to the appearance of the up-town business section of the city were the same splendid lighting system as that now in use on west Center street installed. All who have noted the marked contrast in the appearance of Center street, east and west of Oak, are aware in the view that the new lights are far superior to the old and add immensely to the appearance of the street by day as well as by night.

And while on the subject of the improvement of the two streets in question, there is another matter which should be given consideration. We refer to the rails and ties which the Columbus, Delaware and Marion Electric company has cut off and left in Center street east from State, in Fairground street and in Main street south of Center and in Delaware avenue.

It would seem the part of wisdom for the city authorities to protect the life, by making legal demand on the Electric company to remove its abandoned tracks, and, in the event of the refusal or neglect of the company to do so, to sue award contracts for the reconstruction of the streets in which the tracks are no longer used as to be able to know the exact cost incurred by their removal, that that burden may be placed where it legally belongs.

The people of Marion have a right to expect the protection of their interests by their officials, both elective and appointive, and we see in the present situation—we do not refer to the matter of the removal of the abandoned tracks alone—where a fairly good line on their loyalty, collectively and individually, may be had.

The matter of handling the affairs of a $50,000,000 corporation such as ours should have the attention of all our citizens. They should know whether they are being served faithfully or otherwise and they can not know this unless they interest themselves in the manner in which the city's affairs are being conducted. It is a duty citizens owe the city to take this interest; it is a duty they owe themselves, and if they have been negligent in this regard, there is no time better than the present for becoming awake to this double duty they owe.

The London court of appeals has decided that shipping liquor to the United States is illegal, which means that some of our "good, law-abiding citizens" will do well to prepare themselves for another raise in the prices exacted by the gentlemanly bootleggers.

Dr. George S. Soper, managing director of the American Society for Control of Cancer, says that cancer claims more victims than all other infectious diseases combined with the exception of tuberculosis; that one out of ten adults are destined to die from cancer and that more die from that disease than from tuberculosis. An announcement like that at this time of the year is hardly in line with our idea of spreading Christmas cheer.

Secretary Kellogg is active in his effort to avert war between Bolivia and Paraguay. So are the Pan-American conference and the League of Nations. Pope Pius is urging a peaceful settlement of differences, and the International Federation of War Veterans has brought the people of the two nations to do their utmost to avoid war and bloodshed. The lesson of the World war seems to have gone home to all the world save the minor nations which had no part in it.

ANOTHER CONGRESSIONAL RECORD

Symptoms of Illnesses.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

In an address recently, Dr. Jewell F. Barker, president of the Inter-State Post Graduate Medical Association of North America, discussed the causes for the increase in the average span of life. He recited four chief reasons, as follows: "Endowment of clinics to discover causes of disease."

"Attraction of greater numbers of young men of ability to this work."

"Rise in the average level of training among practicing physicians, and."

"Periodic health examination."

If I were in the mood to argue the case I might dispute some of the inferences of these statements. The particular thing in my mind is the possibility that there may be implied a criticism of the older practitioners.

Of course, Dr. Barker did not intend this. Undoubtedly a full report instead of the brief one I read, would decide more clearly, that the writer was pleading the importance of frequent and careful health examinations.

He was pointing out how such examinations are made possible even for the poor. The clinics, the willingness of young medical men with time on their hands to attend these clinics, and the increasing belief in the profession that frequent examinations are important—these have resulted in an extension of life's span.

When we study the statistics of long life, we find that the good results are confined largely to the extremes of life. Under modern conditions thousands of babies live who would have died under the conditions of one generation ago. In old age, too, we have learned how to prolong life.

Unfortunately, in the middle age group, disease is so prevalent and so fatal as it was thirty years ago. In this period of life, the old time practitioners were and are just as successful as the men of recent medical training.

Believe me, these old-time doctors possess the art of medicine, remarkable skill in applying methods for the relief of pain and the prolongation of life. They have knowledge that should be the envy of the young men in the profession. Let no recent graduate sneer at these "old-fashioned," "country" doctors.

When I am sick I want two doctors. One of them, the modern physician, will apply the latest scientific knowledge. The other, the old-time family doctor, will know how to place his cool hand on my fevered wrist and brow. He will know how to average "hot packs" or "cold packs." He will have a bag full of wonderful tricks to command my confidence and relieve my pain.

My hat is off to the old-time doctor. I respect and commend everything modern science has given the world. But I shall never forget the doctor of the old "Dr. MacClure" type. God bless him!

But Dr. Barker is right about the necessity for frequent physical examinations. I beg of you not to overlook their importance. Have your machinery overhauled occasionally. Early attention to the defects discovered in these surveys will preserve your body and prolong your life.

If you can't afford to pay the fee for this important work, go to one of the splendidly-equipped clinics. Here these trained and able men check up on your physical possessions. Follow the advice given you.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

F. S. T. Q.—What will remove moles?
A.—Moles can sometimes be made less noticeable by the use of the electric needle. The work must be done by an expert in this particular line.

L. B. Q.—What are among the first symptoms of diabetes?
A.—What is responsible for a roaring sound in the head?
A.—What causes the heart to come up in my throat, give a hard beat, also causing a strange feeling in my head?
A.—Abnormal appetite and thirst, nervousness and in some instances loss of weight. A careful examination will determine whether or not the disease is present and then proper treatment can be advised.

W. P. Q.—Can a bronchial cough of long standing, where the lungs are not affected, be cured?
A.—Depending upon the seriousness of the trouble and its duration. Building up the general health will make one less susceptible to colds and coughs and cause stronger resistance. Copyright, 1928, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Editorial Comment.

BY GRACE OF CHARLES II. REX.

Ancestors, especially the kind that failed to grasp opportunities in their day that would react favorably for their descendants, may be more or less of a nuisance and source of irritation. That old graybeard who could have purchased the site on which the Hocking Valley now stands for a few dollars an acre, and didn't, is not likely to be held in high esteem by his great-grandson who has to keep books for a living now. Nor will those who failed to buy General Motors when it could be purchased for a mere bauble be particularly revered by the coming generations.

But consider the great-grandfather several times removed of George W. Prendell, retired laundry owner of Brooklyn. There was a man of acumen, foresight and rare wisdom. One really smart nut on his part, back in 1975, how is the means of paying a goodly part of George W. Prendell's rent, the installments on the radio or keeping up the car.

According to the story, authenticated by British records, this ancestor met up with King Charles II when the latter was trying to get as far away from Cromwell's army as possible, but was finding the going hard, George W. Prendell's illustrious ancestor rendered no small degree of service by securing his hideout in a tree. Whereupon Charles in gratitude, later established a trust fund from which the eldest Prendell was to receive an annuity as long as the British empire stands. When a royal personage visits New York, Mr. Prendell, no doubt, speculates on his tree-climbing abilities with considerable interest.—Columbus Dispatch.

Twenty Years Ago.

It was Thursday.
The end of the rule of President Castro was proscribed by riots throughout Venezuela. The Star told of the injury to Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Court, of Prospect, and W. J. Court, of Green Camp, the day before, when the rig in which they were riding overturned into a ditch east of Green Camp.

Nathan Bumpus was badly injured when he fell from the top of the storage-house being erected for the Marion Steam Shovel company by the Wells-Silver-Morgan Building company of Cleveland.

The mangled remains of a man found by Curtis W. Lyday, the previous Tuesday on the right-of-way of the Hocking Valley railroad were identified as those of Thomas A. Kennedy, Jr.

The annual two-day meeting of the Ohio Fair Managers' association was being held at the court-house.

Marion friends learned of the marriage of Miss Olive Blanche Morral, a former Marion girl, to Mr. Ansel LeRoy Barnes at Centerburg, the preceding Monday.

Marriage licenses were issued to Mrs. Mary Hurley and John H. Warner and to Beatrice M. Arguette and George W. Miller.

Rev. J. W. Miles was elected pastor of the local United Brethren church.

The "bazaar" conducted by the Blks netted the charity fund of the order nearly $700.

A big meeting, presided by a parade, was held by LaRue Pythons, members of the order from Marion, Kenton, Richmond, Essex, Ridgeway and Mt. Victory being present.

Dinner Stories.

"You have been a profound student of the country's needs."
"I have," answered Senator Sorghum. "And each problem gives the same answer. What the country invariably needs is me in an official capacity."

Husband, fiercely—"I'll show you who's running this house."
Wife—"You can't; it's her evening out."

"I should like to live entirely free from discomfort, with all my wants foreseen."
"Understand," said Miss Cayenne. "What you desire is to be reincarnated as a gold fish."

"Just a minute, Jim—where are you going?"
"Sorry, old man, but I haven't time to stop. I'm catching the nine-thirty."
"You'll have to hurry. I've just missed it."

"After all," said the ready-made philosopher, "the forwards of each day's journey in life are three, meals and a restful night."
"That's right," answered Mr. Chuggins. "We can go on cheerfully enough if we are sure of three filling stations and a garage."

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. MINTYRE.

New York, Dec. 17.—Diary of a modern Peppys: Early out and circled the gravel path of the racetrack and saw a rider flung from a horse, who quivered, then lay as dead, but later galloped away. And stopped at the Plaza to see Clara and Lorraine Manville Gould and their new baby girl.

So walking down the avenue and saw Townsend Nether, the Chicago merchant, who is to marry a cinema lady, I hear, also Ernest Hemingway, the novelist. And talked to J. P. McEvoy, author, playwright, greeting card writer and what not. Then to my type writer.

In the evening, to a dinner, and Walter Damrosch and George Gershwin sat side by side at the table and talked of music, the old master and the new, and Jackie Coogan, now in long pantaloons, made a neat speech. Then walking home, surprised at the many midnight movies, and to bed.

In the "Elegant East Nightingale" is one of the most unique bachelor apartments in all the town. There is a private elevator delivering guests to a vestibule of mirrors, and the floor is of glass with running water and goldfish underneath. Door knobs are of crystal and the reception-room is in gold leaf, even to the telephone, and the butlers wear gold uniforms. In the master's sleeping-room the bed is so arranged mechanically it may be suspended in mid-air and swing in and fro. There is a Chinese room, a Japanese room, a Tahitian room and one done in the modernistic manner. And—pardon the exclamation—the owner wears shoes of alligator skin. New York is more fun once you get the hang of it.

A man in New York makes a neat living writing speeches for those suddenly called upon to bore everybody over the radio. He charges $100 for a canned talk on any topic. I still think the most unique job is that of the fellow who springs up omelets and other dishes with parsley in a smart cafe. There is a calling!

Traffic congestion has resulted in an odd venture in newspaper printing as a relief. One of the newspapers has established two presses in a building near Grand Central. Late are rushed from down town by subway and plates are cast in the uptown stand. In this way, twenty precious minutes are saved.

The profession of ball-room dancing is blooming—blooming. But two years ago almost every cafe and night club had its couple—"direct from the Lido" or some other spa. Couples were paid as high as $2,500 a week, but today there are plenty of takers, but no offers of even $200 a week. Lack of originality had something to do with the debacle. All followed the accustomed groove—a gliding waltz, a tango and one of those whirling numbers where the lady was swung around in the air with a hazy, hazy flourish.

The agile Castles, with their rhythmic nuances, ballooned the ball-room dances into its amazing popularity. Maurice and Walton and several others sustained the interest, but the formula became so standardized if you saw one you saw all. And along came sad-eyed ladies on pino lops yapping their voodoo-doo and left-left-along miseries. They were at least a change.

Kingdom Gum Note: One of America's richest men sat in a stage box at a theater the other evening chewing gum.

Theatrical salaries are nearly always exaggerated—chiefly by producers, who "blip, blip, blip" their mingling words. It is a fact, however, that the four performers along Broadway this season making in excess of $5,000 a week. They are mostly the boys and girls with the "it"—the personal following. People will go to see them no matter how punk the play. Among those with feeble plays but "followings" are Joe Cook, the Marx Brothers, Katherine Cornell, Mae West and Gertrude Lawrence.

Our Universe the Biggest.

BY GARRETT P. SERVICE.

The "island universe" hypothesis is now in full possession of the field of astronomical speculation. Everything seems to indicate that the spiral nebulae are other starry universes than ours. They lie about as far distant as space, separated from our system and from one another, yet related somewhat like scattered cirrus clouds, or like the constituent islands of an oceanic archipelago.

With few exceptions, nobody has ever seen any of these extraordinary objects with the naked eye; they are too far off and therefore too faint. Powerful telescopes do not show them satisfactorily, even in the case of the nearer ones, which exhibit their strange forms, sprawling in loops and broken curves on the background of sky. But, fortunately, photography, through its power of accumulating the effects of light by long continuance of exposure, is able to reveal the true details of these nebulae in considerable detail, while also so catching faint images of thousands of others too remote to be more than glimpsed with our present means.

The distances ascribed to the most remote of these "outlying universes" are amazing, almost beyond belief. Hundreds and even thousands of millions of light years away, they glow there in the immeasurable depths of space. Each consists undoubtedly of millions of stars, not unlike our own sun in general constitution, and these stars are arranged in clouds and spiral curves like the stars—of our galaxy. The galactic scheme of organization seems, indeed, to prevail everywhere, though with many variations in detail, like the orders of architecture.

One great fact which seems to stand forth clearly is that our own system, meaning the starry system which is based upon the Milky Way—Galaxy—is the mightiest of all known assemblages of organized suns. Stupendous as some of the others are—for instance, the Andromeda nebula, which is relatively so near and so immense that even the naked eye can detect it as a wisp of light on a dark night—yet our system seems to outrank them all, both in general magnitude and in the number of its stars. Thus, although our sun is by no means one of the largest and although we are situated on the outskirts of our galactic system, yet we belong to the metropolis universe.

Why is the cosmos divided up into subsidiary universes? That is a question sure to be asked in this age of insistent search for the fundamental reason of things. But we might as well demand to know why matter is distributed in atoms, or light disseminated in "quanta," or why there are some two thousand million human beings on the earth, instead of one huge, all-comprising individual. We can, we think, plainly see the reason why so many individuals exist, since otherwise the whole constitution of the world would have to be different from what it is. But, is not that a begging of the entire question? Things in nature are as they are, and the best we can do is to distinguish the existing conditions of dependences between them, and this we are apt to call finding out the why, when in fact it is only discerning the how.

A point of deep interest is reached when, as has lately occurred, indications begin to appear that there may be a tremendous, visible yet material governing center of the entire system of related universes, the existence of which would explain many mysterious phenomena of the heavens. The suggestion has been made that such a central aggregation could be covered from sight by an immense screen of non-luminous nebulous substance, resembling that which spars large spaces of the Milky Way with opaque areas, which formerly were supposed to be vacant openings through some of the richest of the great star masses. The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

Always there is agitation for more export trade with South American countries. We also fret a great deal about the extent of our business with Latin America, Central America, Africa. But let us listen a moment to Hilar Sorenson, American commercial attaché at Copenhagen, capital of Denmark:

"The improved business outlook, it is anticipated, will lead to an increasing demand for American export products in both Denmark and Norway. Both countries enjoy an exceptionally high standard of living and have a purchasing power second to that of no other European country."

"This is exemplified by the fact that the per capita imports of the Scandinavian countries are fully five times as great as, for example, those of Spain and Italy."

"The Scandinavian markets, on the whole, present market possibilities such as are offered by few other sections of the world and deserve the closest attention on the part of American exporters. American exports to northern European countries also show a marked increase, rising from $24,000,000 in 1913 to $82,000,000 in 1927."

It has been said that he is twice a conqueror who conquers himself in the moment of victory. It takes brains as well as skill and prowess to win that sort of victory. It is so easy to gloat, to be patronizing, to be in some fashion immodest in the presence of victory, and gentlemen are as much inclined by their manner in victory as by their attitude in defeat.

The writer has observed public speaking and public speakers from many angles and many platforms. One of the commonest mistakes made by speakers, it seems, is to begin the talk with either an apology or an apologetic attitude. To make any sort of excuse for not being better prepared is to give yourself the worst possible start, as far as the psychology of your audience is concerned. You can not expect the crowd to be well impressed, to think you are good, if you indicate at the very beginning that you are really poor. If you are well prepared, make the most of it. If you are badly prepared, don't talk if you can avoid it. If you can't avoid it, at least try and not show that you are badly prepared.

Not much in mere "word repentance." Repentance is properly defined as feeling sorry with a definite intention to cease evil-doing. If you say you are sorry and don't really expect to do anything about it, you are not really repentant. Anybody can feel sorry for mistakes and wrongdoing. To change our habits, after we're sorry, gives the only real value to repentance.

BUCYRUS SCHOOLS PLAN PROGRAMS

Entertainments Will Mark
Close of School for Holidays

BUCYRUS, Dec. 17.—Christmas festivities in the city school Friday will mark the close of classes for the holiday vacation and student groups and parent-teachers committees have announced the programs for the various schools.

Friday afternoon a special assembly will be held in the high school with Santa Claus present. A one-act play,
"Why the Chimes Rang," will be presented by the Senior Dramatic club
as a feature of the program, under the direction of Miss Helen Gooding.
Carol singing and orchestra selections will comprise the remaining numbers of the program.

Kearsley and Crawford Parent-Teachers associations will entertain the students with a holiday party.
Friday afternoon at the respective schools includes a play by the sixth grade pupils and a miscellaneous program presented by pupils from the first five grades. Two parties will be held at Crawford building, the first three grades assembling together, and the fourth, fifth and sixth grades joining for merrierment. A Christmas program is announced for the regular Crawford P. T. A. meeting Tuesday night, when the Rev. Roy S. Bowers, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church will deliver an address. Refreshments will be served during the social hour
to follow the program.

MT. GILEAD LOSES MANSFIELD GAME

Absence of Two Players Cripples Morrow County
Cagers

MT. GILEAD, Dec. 17.—Mt. Gilead cager warriors went to Mansfield Saturday night only to meet with a crushing defeat at the hands of the well drilled and smooth working Mansfield team by a score of 24-6.

This is partially explained by the absence of two players due to the present epidemic of the flu in the schools here which has kept two of Mt. Gilead's favorite players, Dave White and Howard Nesbitt off the floor.

The Mansfield team, representing a school much larger than the local school, was very efficient and piled up a heavy score in the first half,
the locals holding them to six points
in the last half. The summaries:

BUCYRUS RESIDENT SUES RAILROAD

Asks $60,000 Damages for Injuries Received More Than Year Ago

BUCYRUS, Dec. 17.—Dr. W. A.
Koch, Bucyrus, Saturday filed suit in federal court, Cleveland, against the Pennsylvania railroad, in which he seeks damages to the amount of $60,000, claiming that he suffered injuries to his back in addition to exposure as a result of his premature alighting from an east-bound train seven miles west of Bucyrus more than a year ago. Koch alleges that he was enroute to Bucyrus from South Bend, Ind., when the brakeman called Bucyrus when the train was at "Van" Bower, near Nevada, in attempting to alight he charged, he was thrown to the ground and forced to walk seven miles to his home and as a result suffered injuries to his back and exposure.

Bucyrus Woman Drops Dead While
Sweeping Porch of Home

BUCYRUS, Dec. 17.—Funeral services were held this afternoon for Mrs. Emma Selbert, of Bucyrus, who dropped dead while sweeping the porch of her home Saturday morning.
Services were held at the home, 208
West Mary st., at 4:00 o'clock, with Rev. Ernest Fiedlerjohn officiating.

Mrs. Selbert was born in Holmes township, January 18, 1860, the daughter of Jacob and Caroline Selbert. She was married in Bucyrus in February, 1890 to William O. Selbert.

Besides her husband she is survived by one son, Florian W. Selbert, and two grandchildren. One brother, Chris Danneberg of Richland county,
and one sister, Mrs. Caroline Reibel, of Sycamore, also survive.

Michigan's First Woman Up On Four-Time Liquor Violation Law Puzzled

Mrs. Ettie May Miller Says She Guesses She's "Woke Up Something;" Declares Local Option Was Ruination of Her Husband

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 17.—Mrs. Ettie May Miller, a well-known character, 48, and looking 60, today recognized herself today in the marriage role in which the penal code of Michigan and the prohibition laws combined to exact her.

The gray-haired grandmother is the first woman to come up against the statute which provides life imprisonment for four-time violators of the prohibition laws.

Until a jury decided that she had bestowed a vulgar insult of "moon" on two thirdly drunkards at her gate, Mrs. Miller was known as just a simple soul, trying to get along under the economic handicaps of a household family, an absolute husband and a cheerfully imprudent disposition.

Since that conviction she has been hailed as a defiant Barbara Fritchley of the cause of personal liberty. Michigan's capital city awaits under the impending stigma of being branded another Dayton, Tenn., or Salem, Mass., apprehensive Lansing business men have offered to finance an appeal of the case to the supreme court.

"Stirred Up Something"

"Land sakes," observed Mrs. Miller, who comes of the down east Yankee stock which cleared the Michigan wilderness. "I guess I've woke up something. Takes a woman to do that."

If she had the vocabulary of metropolitan bootlegging circles, she might say that she took the rap once too often for her well-to-do man. Her divorce suit is pending against Alvin ("Cordy") Miller, whose record covers a whole deck of cards in Lansing police files. Miller is now serving his third prison term in the state penitentiary at Jackson.

"Local option was the ruination of Cordy," his wife said in the county jail at Mason today. "When Ingham county went dry before the war he turned bootlegger. Twice when they nearly caught him he turned stool pigeon for the roller, put the blame on me and I served time for him. Once he gave me some money and sent me for liquor and I was arrested. Another time he was mad because I wouldn't let him in my house—his house I built with my own hands. He brought 12 cops to break in and had a suitcase of whiskey he brought from Detroit. Himself."

Works in Field

"Yes, and I've husked corn and worked like a man in the hay field," the angular, wiry woman said. "I can pitch or load as much hay as any."

SPANISH WAR VETS MEET IN BUCYRUS

Marion Man Included in Officers Named by Order of Serpent

Officers for the coming year were elected at a meeting of members of Cabanatuan War Veterans, Order of the Serpent, at the Bucyrus armory, yesterday afternoon.

Cabanatuan War Veterans is made up of the members of the Military Order of the Serpent in Bucyrus and Marion. Members are veterans of the Spanish-American war.

Marion men elected to office were Leo Howison, date or vice president, and Elmer Bondler, keeper of the sacred amphora. Initiation of a class of candidates will be held at the armory here in January.

In attendance from Marion were Leo Howison, Thomas Glaze, Charles Owsley, Edna Mayes and Elmer Bondler.

U. S. Surgeon Lays Down 11 Rules to Combat Flu

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 17.—Surgeon General Hugh B. Cumming today issued 11 simple directions for avoiding influenza, after receiving recommendations from the board of strategy organized by him to deal with the epidemic.

First indication of concern abroad about the outbreak also was received by the American health authorities during the day in a radiogram from the league of nations seeking information about the spread of the disease in this country. The communication said European newspapers were printing reports of a widespread epidemic.

Unless conditions become as serious as during the 1918 epidemic in which communities were left without medical aid because of illness among physicians, the public health service officials today said the service would take no specific steps in the present outbreak except to issue warnings and directions through state health officers.

Reports Incomplete

The service also reiterated its statement that the reports on the number of cases throughout the country were incomplete. Surgeon General Cumming issued these 11 rules to halt the spread of the flu:

1. Avoid needless crowding. Walk to work when possible.
2. Take advantage of sunshine.
3. Sleep with window open.
4. Avoid people who are coughing, sneezing, or sniffing.
5. Wash your hands before eating, and do not put your fingers in your mouth.
6. Do not use napkins, towels, spoons, forks, knives and drinking cups unless they are clean.

7. Use plenty of clean water, both inside and outside. Eat wholesome food. Sleep at least seven hours.
8. Keep away from houses with influenza.
9. Avoid undue chilling of the body.
10. Avoid dust and overheated rooms.
11. In case you do contract the disease, go to bed as soon as symptoms develop and remain there until thoroughly recovered. Call a physician at once.

Watch Out for Hippos

Surgeon General Cumming traced occurrence of influenza and the causes suggested for it from the time when Hippocrates, the Greek physician, in 400 B. C., attributed it to changes in the wind.

Influenza and jaundice, he said, are one and the same thing, and explained that, while influenza itself "probably never has been fatal," its complications cause a "serious and devastating" condition.

"We are prone to forget the serious aspects of influenza," he added, "until suddenly and without warning it becomes epidemic." He declared influenza exists to a great or small degree at all times in all countries.

Got Name from Italians

Influenza got its name, he explained, from the Italian, he added, who thought some influenza, probably that of straws, caused it to result from the common cold. The French name, la grippe, he added, comes from the word "grippe," which means "to attack."

The outbreak of influenza in 1889, he noted, was known as "Russian flu," and in it nervous symptoms predominated, with few catarrhal symptoms present to any degree. The epidemic in 1918, known as "Spanish flu," he said, presented the reverse situation, with catarrhal symptoms predominating.

FLIER BURNED WHEN TRAPPED IN PLANE

Akron Man, Dead While Companion Suffers Severe Burns and Bruises

CLEVELAND, Dec. 17.—Another airplane fatality had been added to the already formidable list of casualties which northern Ohio has seen in recent weeks today. Ford Perry, 25, Akron radio dealer, was burned to death when a plane in which he was riding went through a high voltage electric line, crashed to earth and caught fire on the Northfield rd., four miles south of Bedford yesterday afternoon.

Harry Sadler of Kenmore, who was also in the plane, managed to run through the flames to safety, and though he was taken to a hospital with severe burns and bruises, will recover.

According to Sadler, who was operating the uncontrolled plane, which he owned, at the time of the crash, the motive power gave way. He attempted to land, and crashed into the electric wire.

Perry attempted to make his way through the burning wreckage after Sadler had escaped and about 50 persons, from automobiles on the road, saw him struggle forward, then put his arm over his face and fell back into the cockpit. Both Sadler and Perry were aviation enthusiasts and had recently obtained their pilot licenses.

OHIO BANKS MERGED

Springfield Consolidating Given Institution Resources of $14,000,000

SPRINGFIELD, Dec. 17.—Merger of the First National Bank and Trust Co. and the Madison National Bank of this city, has been announced. Approval of the merger by the controller of the treasury at Washington was given Saturday. The merger gives the institution combined resources of $14,000,000, bank officers said.

Joseph R. Cartmell, president of the First National Bank and Trust Co. will remain president of the merged bank, while Harry E. Hebrank, president of the Madison National Bank, will become an executive officer.

The First National Bank and Trust Co. was the outgrowth of the merger of one of the First National Bank, the American Trust and Savings Bank, and the Farmers' National Bank.

Participant Hit by Auto As He "Squares Off" for "Battle"

CINCINNATI, Dec. 17.—An alleged fist fight over a girl has culminated in death to one of the participants here today, according to Coroner Fred C. Swing. Thomas J. Tutty, Jr., 28, automobile salesman, was killed by an automobile on a highway near here as he and Melvin McClain, another auto salesman, were alleged to have

"squared off" for their fight. Tutty was brought to a hospital here where he was pronounced dead. No arrests have been made, although Coroner Swing is continuing his investigation. The driver of the auto which struck Tutty has been exonerated.

Quick relief for COLDS since 1889

Mr. Ukvuk no catchum cold

Up near the arctic circle, where 40 below is nothing unusual, Mr. Ukvuk is spearing his breakfast through a hole in the ice three feet thick. And though he catches plenty of fish, he never catches cold.

Why? He never overworks. He doesn't stay out late. He gets sufficient sleep. All of which keeps his vitality and resistance to infection at high mark. But those who work and play much harder need winter health and cold insurance.

To millions that means GROVE'S BROMO QUININE. At the very first symptom of a cold—headache, sneezing, stopped-up feeling, vague discomfort—they promptly take this remedy for its proved and quick results. The tonic and laxative benefits give amazing relief, help throw colds off quickly, and may prevent grip or "flu". But to get such results, get the genuine by emphasizing GROVE'S when asking for GROVE'S BROMO QUININE. Price 30c.

Marion Man Wins Success as Radio Entertainer; Now One of Popular "Office Boys" at Station WLW

Ray DeTurk Ranks as Favorite with Air Program Fans

Above are pictured the "Office Boys" of WLW, the Crosley Radio Corporation in Cincinnati. These two singers, Ray Sullivan and Leroy DeTurk, are favorites of the afternoon listeners of this station. Mr. DeTurk, popularly known as "the tall man with big feet" and "tiredhead," is a Marion man. He also appears in several other radio programs over the powerful Ohio station.

I WILL sing this next number for my friends in Marion. That was Leroy DeTurk talking over radio station WLW of the Crosley Radio Corp. in Cincinnati the other afternoon while appearing with Ray Sullivan in some skit called "The Office Boys." Behind that sentence is the story of one of Marion's young men who has made good as a radio entertainer.

DeTurk's home is in Marion; there he attended school, graduating from Harding high school in the class of 1919. Most of his school years were spent at the home of his deceased uncle, Lemuel Cole, and with an aunt, Mrs. Louie Cole, of 313 South Grand av.

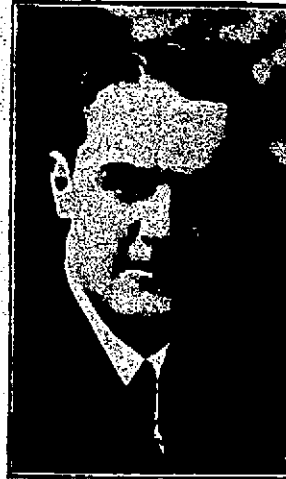

He attended Northwestern university and finished his college education at Ohio State university.

In Numerous Shows Here He will be remembered by most Marion residents, as having appeared in a large number of home plays staged here. It is his past he has been associated with most every type of home talent play and minstrel ever given while he was living in Marion.

It was nearly six years ago that the Marion young man made his first appearance before the microphone. That was with station WLW of the Detroit News. He then took to the road in musical comedy and vaudeville team work and finally returned to the Detroit station where he made his art. For over a year, DeTurk led as assistant to El "Ty" Tyson before going to WJR, also in Detroit. He spent six months in that station and then took a position as studio director at KNT at Muscatine, Ia.

Activities at WLW DeTurk has been connected with WLW for the past six months as one of the Office Boys. In addition to that he appears in "Hell and Hell," the "Varsity Out," "The Duke," "W. F. and W. F.," a vocal trio, "Two Unique Men," "Deuces Wild," soloist with the Matinee Players on weekdays and Thursdays, and as Mr. Seth Parker in "The Old fashioned Music School" that is on at 11 o'clock every Tuesday night. He also serves as announcer at times.

His favorite, however, is "the Office Boys." This hour is con-

number of telephone calls soon died up the exchange and the "hello girls" objected to taking down such song titles as "What Shall I Say, Dear, After I Say I'm Sorry" and "Papa Grows

With a burst of inspiration uncommon to the ordinary variety of office boys, they hit upon the idea of numbering each of the more than 1,500 songs. Now instead of writing down the name of a song all the listener has to do is send in a number. The fact that the members of the duo are the only ones that know for what selections the numbers stand seems to make the plan more popular.

DeTurk plays the piano, sings baritone and gives comical readings. The Office Boys in an afternoon feature at WLW being broadcast at 4:30 o'clock on Tuesdays and on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 5 o'clock.

LEAGUE GAMES FEATURE CARD

St. Mary's To Clash with Strong Irish Quintet on Local Floor
Friday; Industrial and Sunday School Loops Play Tonight, Tuesday

WITH the weaker teams having been revamped after the wintering up round, the Industrial basketball team tonight will enter the second week of play.

Three games are scheduled with the C. D. & M. Kappa club with the Steam Shovel looming as the outstanding battle. Tonight's cage program will get under way at 7:15 o'clock with the College-Mallards team meeting the Power-Hoeking five. The feature contest is second on the bill followed by a game between Bohannon-Excavator and O-slow.

Considerable mystery surrounds the basketball schedule of two of Marion's leading teams. Harding High has yet had scheduled no game for Friday night and the Eagles may or may not play.

The Sunday School leagues of the county will see action on the Y. M. C. A. floor Tuesday night. Games are scheduled to both the Intermediate and Senior leagues.

The outstanding sport card of the week is the battle between St. Mary's of Marion and the St. Anthony quintet of Kenton. The two teams have been rivals for years and past contests have been filled with plenty of fight.

Under the coaching of Dick Itzin, former Kenton high school star, the S. A. J. five has been cleaning up things in general way over in Hardin county. His team is confident of a victory here Friday night.

The local Irish have been showing more than the usual amount of spirit this year. In two starts they have won from the Alumni and Sacred Heart of Columbus.

Colden Bears Afraid of Georgia Tech; Workouts To Start Earlier

BERKELEY, Cal., Dec. 17.—If the Golden Bears of California ever had the idea that the Georgia Tech. was a mild southern breeze it was dispelled here today by "Brick" Mitchell, who has returned from scouting the Georgia Tech-Georgia game.

Although Georgia Tech was reported under wraps when it played its state rivals, Mitchell, who saw enough to convince himself that the Bears would have an exceedingly busy afternoon on New Year's day at Pasadena.

After Coach Price conferred with Mitchell, the program for the Bears underwent a sudden change. It was originally intended to have the Bears practice only five days before the game. Now, however, the California athletes will get 10 days of intensive workouts before the clash.

Because of the victory of Oregon State and Stanford in the east, Price is faced with the problem of forcing his young men to realize that the west is not infallible and can ride to a fall the same as any of them.

Both California and Georgia Tech will workout in the Pasadena Bowl. One team will do its practicing in the mornings and the other in the afternoon.

LOUGHRAN INVADERS RANKS OF HEAVIES

Scheduled To Meet Big Boy Peterson in Chicago Tonight

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—Tommy Loughran, light heavyweight champion, who is looking for new work to conquer, will make his first start as a heavyweight here tonight in a 10-round decision with "Big Boy" Peterson of New Orleans.

With the advance sale of tickets said to total close to $20,000, the show is expected to draw the largest gate of the current indoor season. It will be staged at the Coliseum under the direction of Promoter Mike Mallor.

COLUMBUS MAN TO DEFEND SHOE TITLE

"Barney" Golf Tournament To Open in St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 4

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Dec. 17.—Men with flowing whiskers and unheeded youths just out of rompers, holders of city, county and state horse shoe pitching championships will gather early in February for the tenth annual "Barney" golf tournament for the world's championship and $1,500.00 in cash prizes.

Getting under way on the morning of Feb. 4, the tournament conducted under the older and more popular "round robin" rules, will continue through the week until each contestant has played every other contestant one fifty-point game. The player getting the largest total number of points will be proclaimed champion and will receive the largest out of the money, along with a gold medal.

O. C. Davis, present title holder, a Columbus, O., carpenter, will again defend his title. This little keen-eyed twister of the iron footwear has held the championship at the end of more tournaments than any other of the outstanding contenders.

Among the stars who will enter into competition here next February include Frank J. Rogers, Columbus, Ia., and his two sons; Frank Rogers, Wichita, Kan.; Jimmy Black, Montpelier, Ind.; Paul Mossman, Rochester, N. Y.; George May, Akron, O.; and Harry J. Borne, Atlantic City.

The contests this winter will be held in Waterfront Park, the spring training camp of the Boston Braves national league. Pitching lanes, five of them will be placed in front of the grand stand and stakes will be driven into the clay, forty feet apart.

In previous tournaments, Harold Folor and George May, both of Akron and both former champions, have pitched through "round robin" tournaments without losing a game. They turned in perfect cards.

Davis, the present champ, is regarded in barney golf circles as the most consistent finger pitcher in the entire field. His average of "collars" is four to three or seventy-five percent fingers. He has pitched fingers blimped in exhibition matches and is regarded as the favorite in the coming meet.

A man has to pretend a good deal of the time that he doesn't care how his clothes look, but that's not true.

GUESSWORK WILL RETIRE FROM RANKS NEXT YEAR

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 17.—Harwood horse lovers of the East will miss a familiar compaigner when the bell taps for the 1929 season. This is the veteran racing daughter of Peter the Great, Guesswork, 2:02 1/4. She has joined the band of broodmares at the Calumet farm of W. M. Wright, Chicago, here.

Guesswork ranks as one of the best half-mile tract sidewheelers in history, having won over $50,000 in purses. "Old Mollie," as she is called, raced for William Maloney of Hyde Park, Ill.

KENTON FIGHT CARD SLATED FOR FRIDAY

Mickey Fedor and Alex Simms To Clash in Main Co. Event

KENTON, Dec. 17.—Fight fans from Hardin and eight surrounding counties will meet at the opening boxing events here Friday night, to be held as a prelude to sports attractions of the Christmas holidays.

A card, second to none in such larger cities, has been arranged by Danny Gennett, sealer law student at Ohio Northern university who has been engaged as a promoter and boxer in the light game for seven years.

Mickey Fedor of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Alex Simms of Toledo will clash in the main event, a 10-round bout which should be the most interesting fight ever staged in Kenton. Both are experienced, are in splendid shape for the battle, and will weigh in at 165 pounds.

The semi-final, an eight-round event between the indomitable Jackie Burns of Akron, and the fighting Bud Morrison of Canton, will interest sportsmen and sportswomen almost as much as the main event, according to predictions of Manager Gennett. They will strip at 125 pounds.

In two six-round preliminaries, fans will see Don LaRue of Ada and Ray Hamm of Bluffton; Neal Gerlach and Meade Ellis, both of Kenton. These boys are to weigh 160 pounds. A surprise bout of four rounds has been arranged for the early fight fans.

Jack Huxes of Toledo will referee.

CHANGE DATES

CLEVELAND, Dec. 17.—The annual Grand Circuit stewards' meeting, originally scheduled Jan. 7-8 at Indianapolis, has been shifted to Jan. 21-22 at the Hoosier city. A. C. Pennoch, secretary of the big line, announced here. A 1929 schedule providing at least 14 weeks of continuous racing seems certain, Pennoch stated.

WESTERN QUINTETS UPSET EAST HOPES

Pitt To Attempt Comeback at Ohio State Tonight

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—The former powerful basketball teams of Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh, prides of the east, were still in total eclipse today to a half dozen mid-western quintets, five of whom are representatives of the Big Ten conference.

The invading easterners, who last year at this time were "knocking off" western teams with reckless abandon, have played six games in the same territory to date and have been beaten every time.

Penn lost its third start Saturday night against Michigan at Ann Arbor by the score of 34 to 21, while the Panthers from Pitt were dropping their third straight of the current invasion to Wisconsin at Madison. The latter score was 34 to 24.

Pitt will try for a comeback tonight against Ohio State at Columbus. Last year the Panthers beat the Buckeyes to the tune of 50 to 31.

Wild animals killed 2,285 people in India during 1927, and snakes no fewer than 19,663. Tigers were responsible for 1,034, and wolves for 455 deaths. One thousand three hundred and sixty-eight tigers were shot during the year.

TILDEN IS STILL OUT OF TENNIS

New Version of Player-Writer Rule To Be Adopted by Association in February Will Keep Star from Writing or Playing

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—William T. Tilden, 2nd, probably has played his last international game of tennis, if the latest player-writer version is written into the records in February, as planned. This declaration was made in the writer's presence today by a man actively and influentially identified with the sport.

Another alteration was to the effect that the tennis association means to demand a guarantee of absolute obedience from Tilden before it will restate him. A third was that he would have been made eligible to resume competition at the executive committee's meetings on Dec. 8, if it hadn't been for the action of the Philadelphia district in ranking Tilden in its annual list of leading players.

Because he was and is a suspended player, this action was deemed to have been in "bad taste" and, consequently, those members of the committee who were supposed to feel that Tilden had paid his debt to the dignity of tennis are understood to have suffered a change of attitude overnight.

"Keep him on the ground a while longer," is said to have been the prevailing reaction to the so-called "overt act" of the Philadelphia district. And on the ground he is, in fact, he may be said to be flat on his face.

Persecution, probably is the public's estimate of the tennis association's treatment of Tilden to date. What it will term the next move in the game is a matter of some curiosity.

By the terms of the current player-writer plan, as outlined at the executive committee meeting, Tilden either will be driven out of the writing game altogether or he will be driven out of international competition.

The proposed legislation bears an air of outward innocence but actually it is not without its guile. It merely says that no player, man or woman, will be allowed to write tennis for publication from the moment of his or her appointment to an American international team to the moment the matches are over. For Miss Helen Wills, The Wimbledon cup matches consume only two or three days.

For Tilden it means everything. We no longer have the Davis cup and so the American members of that team, instead of being subject to the regulation for the week of the challenge round, will be under obligation to the proposed rule for three months or more. These happen to be the three summer months when tennis articles are in demand, so Tilden is faced with the alternative of forfeiting his place on the team or forfeiting considerable revenue.

To make certain of being barred from writing during June, July and August, all he will have to do is accept the nomination to the Davis cup team in 1929. America became only one of many challenging nations last year and, as a result, its team was selected very early in the season, went into training at Augusta, Ga., visited Mexico City for the first round, played other rounds in Kansas City and Chicago, sailed for abroad, played a final round with the Italians and then was beaten by the French in the challenge round.

Davis Cup play means less than a week out of the life of the champion nation; it relieves the challenging nation of a large part of their year. Can you see Tilden, forfeiting his writing privilege over a sustained period like that? Maybe, but it is liable to place an awful strain on the eye sight.

EXPECT TROTTLING FILLY TO MAKE GOOD RECORD

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 17.—A trotting filly that is sure to attract considerable attention in pre-season work is an addition to the stable of the well-known horsemen, the Seelye brothers, here. She is called Lodi Margaret and is an own sister to the former four-year-old trotting champion, Arion Guy (4) 1:39 1/4, the sire owned by H. E. Devereux, Cleveland, president of the Grand Circuit, being by Guy Arworthy-Margaret Parrish.

Lady Margaret will be a two-year-old next year and if she lives up to her royal breeding, will make it exceedingly interesting for the rest of the futurity candidates.

University

COLUMBUS, Dec. 17—Age means nothing when the ambition burns for attainment of higher education. It is learned here today by statistics that this year's new students at Ohio State university just made public. The ages of the 3,431 new students enrolled at the university this fall, according to the registrar's office, ranged from 15 to 53 years. Two girls and a boy of 15 were admitted, while one woman gave her age at 53. In all there were four men students past 40 years of age. Three are women and the other a man. Eighteen boys and girls, 36 in all, stated their ages as being 16.

More entering students were 18 than any other age, with 19 as the next largest age group. The older students are mostly registered in the professional colleges of law, medicine and dentistry. This is partly due to more exacting requirements for admission.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and breaks the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and other forms of bronchial irritations, and is essential for building up the system after any of the above. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Sub.)

ing, police graft and organized crime.

New York has its mysterious Arnold Rothstein case, which has been its police commissioner his job. Chicago has kicked out high police officials who seemingly could not stop a sensational series of gangster killings. Philadelphia has overthrown a grafting police force; Detroit is the the three of a federal inquiry of an alleged $300,000 border rum-running ring; Pittsburgh's police are under fire for alleged graft; Cincinnati, home of George Remus, former "king of the bootleggers," is fighting the new measure of racketeering; and the "open town" situation in Kansas City has been enlivened by the appearance of a "modern" Carrie Nation—Mrs. Maude Wilson, who, hatchet in hand, swooped down on a saloon she claims sold liquor to her 18-year-old daughter.

Crime On Increase
Violent crimes, such as women slaying their husbands and sweethearts, college youths essaying hold-up forays "for a thrill" and dry agents shooting citizens fleeing with contraband rum and gin, are on the increase, reports to International News Service today indicate.

"Christmas booze" is pouring into New York and other ports on the Atlantic seaboard from the rum-deck and into Detroit from across the Canadian border. Motor trucks are swarming along country roads, heavily with booze destined for one interior city or another. "Beer flats" have sprung up in large numbers in Chicago. And reports from many other cities, including St. Louis, Atlanta, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Denver, New Orleans, Minneapolis, Fort Worth and Toledo, show that the "speak-easies" are flourishing. Even at Washington, D. C., the national capital, wholesale violations of the prohibition law are reported.

Not Enough Money
Government officials, including Mabel Walker Willebrandt, are apparently making a sincere effort to cope with the problem of enforcing the Eighteenth amendment but they are confronted with a monumental task they haven't enough money, they claim. Dr. James M. Dugan, federal prohibition commissioner, told a congressional committee the other day that it would take $300,000,000 to effectively enforce the prohibition law.

The Canadian border is a source of great trouble to the enforcement officials. Mrs. Willebrandt, the assistant attorney general, has estimated that $2,000,000 worth of liquor is smuggled monthly into the United States from Canada. The government is making preparations for an informal conference with Canadian customs officials in Ottawa in January to remedy the situation along the border.

Big Receiving Unit
Detroit, because of its proximity to the border, is regarded as one of the big receiving points of Canadian liquor. From Detroit it is shipped inland in huge quantities. A federal grand jury investigation, in progress now, in Detroit into an alleged $3,000,000 graft ring in the border patrol service.

The Detroit "rum fleet," however, is operating as usual, according to notices to International News Service today. Some estimates are that this "fleet" brings in as high as million dollar cargoes some weeks. There has been no let down in Detroit in the amount of available liquor as a result of the federal investigation and prices for drinks, which are governed by the law of supply and demand, are no higher than they were weeks ago.

Believe 100 To Be Failed
It is predicted by Detroit prohibition officials that between 75 and 100 border patrolmen will be indicted or discharged from service as a result of the federal investigation. Some of the border inspectors, it is alleged, were systematic about collecting graft. Members of the "night shift" are alleged to have made trips to Canada during the day and checked up on rum-runners planning to "run in a load" under the cover of darkness.

District Attorney John B. Watkins at Detroit declared that corruption and graft in the customs board patrol "is a whole lot worse than at first believed." He made this statement after Daniel Shinnel, a former lieutenant in the border service, had left the grand jury room where he related an amazing story of bribery and dishonesty among former patrolmen. Shinnel said he quit to join the police force after witnessing, for 16 months, the bribery of customs by rum-runners. During that time Shinnel claims he turned down $200,000 in graft offers.

The situation in Detroit is typical of conditions that prevail in other American cities; the methods of the liquor violators varying according to their local application.

(Editor's Note: Tomorrow's article will give a high light picture of the liquor situation in various cities of the country.)

From 71 Above Zero to 76 Below, Back, in 140 Minutes, Fliers Record

Close-up of plane, showing supercharger, which Captains St. Clair Streett and Albert W. Stevens flew on their remarkable mission, and, below, a cut out section of about 10 square miles on photo obtained at altitude of seven miles. Right, Capt. Streett awarded in many thick masses of clouds to wilderness intense cold, and wearing oxygen helmet.

Remarkable Experience of Two Army Pilots at Dayton Detailed

DAYTON, Ohio.—Captains St. Clair Streett and Albert W. Stevens, Army pilots stationed at Wright Field, didn't fly to the North Pole and back again, but—

They got the same result! From a temperature of 71 degrees above zero they climbed in 76 below in one hour and twenty minutes. In another sixty minutes they dropped to a biting 70 below and nearly suffocated. This wide range was experienced when the birdmen, flying a special built plane equipped with supercharger, soared to the almost unheard of height of 37,864 feet, or better than seven miles above the earth. The figure is a record for pilot and one passenger, being within 500 feet of the altitude mark for a lone flier.

To keep from freezing the two first covered their bodies with grease, a la channel swimmers, then donned bathing suits, three layers of woolens, heavy uniforms, and finally, leather flying coveralls with fur collars.

From the front of their wool-lined helmets projected a rubber tube extending to the oxygen flask. These they drew upon as the plane gained altitude and the atmosphere grew more rarified.

The purpose of Captains Streett and Stevens wasn't to set an altitude record, but to complete a record of temperature variations. In addition the latter wished to experiment with photographing the earth from great heights. One of his plates, exposed at an altitude of 37,864 feet, is shown above. Though the naked eye could see nothing but great, cumulous clouds, the camera lens recorded a checker-board of farm boundaries, wooded sections and highways in perfect clarity.

DENVER MAKES BID

Would Become Winter Sport Mecca, Campaign Is Launched

Denver.—An intensive campaign has been launched in Denver to make this city and the surrounding mountain territory a mecca of winter sports which have made Swiss and Canadian resorts famous.

Under the leadership of Jack Farnham, prominent local sportsman and president of the Sportsmen's Club, plans for winter games such as hockey, curling, skiing, snow shoe hiking, ski-jumping, and tobogganing have been made.

Denver's extensive mountain parks system will be the center of the attraction, as many new ski courses will be added to those already in existence, and tobogganing slides will be made. Evergreen, a mountain hamlet, with its mammoth artificial lake, will be the scene of a "hockey, curling and skating" tournament.

Six ski tournaments have been scheduled for the coming season, which will be under the auspices of the Denver Ski Club. These tournaments will be held by numerous ski clubs throughout the state and nation.

One collegiate club was organized at University of Denver by John Blake, former state junior ski champion, and winner last year in the Class "A" Junior Division.

Special attention will be given to beginners who aspire to be skiers.

Travelers' Guide

the atmosphere grew more purified.

The steps of Captain Streets and Stevens went to set an altitude record, but to complete a record of temperature variations. In addition, the latter wished to experiment with photographing the earth from great heights. One of his planes, exposed at an altitude of 37,000 feet, was seen by

Nolan, 21, a cook in a restaurant here, and said to have formerly lived in Marietta, was reported in a critical condition, with a possibility of recovery. A suicide attempt last night. Police assigned domestic troubles as the motive. Her chances of recovery are slight, hospital attendants told today.

CITY BRIEFS

Undergo Operation—Elmer J. Ford, 701 Herman st., underwent an operation for appendicitis this morning at City hospital. He was taken to the City hospital yesterday afternoon in the W. C. Ford invalid car. The father is clerk of municipal court.

Visit Wm. Liberty—Mr. and Mrs.

Wm. Liberty, 608 Cleveland av., visited Mrs. M. J. Thompson and her family at their home, 2 Cleveland st., and F. Kauble, of Forest, O., spent yesterday at the home of Mrs. A. E. Grant, of West Liberty. Mr. Kauble conducted the Sunday services at the West Liberty M. E. church, of which the Rev. A. E. Grant is pastor. The Rev. Mr. Grant is ill in a Dayton hospital. S. F. Kauble is spending a few days at the Roy Kauble home here.

Firemen Called Out—No damage resulted from a chimney fire reported at the home of A. J. Hecker, 404 Forest st., shortly after 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Firemen answered the alarm in the fire chief's car. The wet condition of the roof of the dwelling as a result of Saturday's rain prevented damage. Chief McFarland reported.

Removed to Home—Mrs. Lenora Evans was removed from the Dr. Frederick C. Smith clinic to her home, 400 West Columbia st., Saturday night in the Hoss, Market & Are invalid car.

Father Dies—Mrs. Jack Fugh, 404 Courtland av., received word this morning of the death, Sunday afternoon, of her father, Walter F. Cable, of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Fugh left today for Pittsburgh.

Resumes Practice—Dr. A. A. Starnes, South Main st., was able to resume his office duties Saturday after having been ill with influenza since Wednesday.

Condition Critical—The condition of Mrs. Anna E. Haffensperger, who is ill at her home, 200 South Prospect st., as a result of a recent fall, remains critical.

City of Kenton Gave Promise of Crossing Protection

KENTON, Dec. 17.—Added crossing protection promised by the Big Four railroad in its recent agreement with the city of Kenton will be inaugurated at the various grade crossings here upon the completion of its double track project, it is stated by city councilmen.

The protection program includes crossing watchmen at Espy, Franklin, North and Detroit streets together with warning signals, providing 24-hour protection. Grove st. is included in the warning signal program. Councilman Grover Chamberlain has asked that council request the Big Four to see to it that their present warning signals are kept in good running order.

LICENSES HIGHER

Marion County Dog Owners Will Pay More Tax

Mt. Gilead, Dec. 17.—County Auditor Roy Miller revealed here Saturday that the dog license tags would be higher in price this coming year than ever before, due to the deficit of $1,422.75 in the show club fund, which is taken from the dog and kennel fund. The rates next year will be for male dogs, $1.50; for female dogs, $1.50; and for kennels, $15. Auditor Miller stated that this increase in price should make up the deficit of last year. The rates for 1928 were for male dogs, $1.30; for female dogs, $1.30; for kennels, $13.00.

HITS BLUE LAWS

Indiana Senator Would Repeal All Sunday Legislation

Indianapolis — Enforce Indiana's Sunday blue laws or repeal them. That will be the legislative policy of Senator John L. Niblack of Indianapolis at the coming session of the Indiana Legislature, he announced, in denouncing the hypocrisy of the past in neither enforcing nor repealing the seven measures. "Nobody pays any attention to those laws," Senator Niblack said.

They just clutter up the statute books. If they're going to stay, let's put teeth in them. If they are not going to be enforced, let's take them out and make space for something else."

Senator Niblack cited the following law as being the "bluest": "Whoever, being over 14 years of age, is found on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, strolling, hunting, fishing, quarrelling, at common labor or engaged in his usual avocation, works of charity and necessity only excepted, shall be fined not less than $1, nor more than $10."
